THE CHIEF PLOTTERS ARRESTED.

One of Them Raves in Court and Feigns Insanity-A Despleable Lack of Consideration for Human Life. $50,000 the Prize.

DES MOINES, IA., July 27.-There was brought to a focus this morning a regu-lar Jesse James plot to rob the American Savings Bank, of East Fifth and Walnut streets. The two most prominent persons in the plot were Samuel Cooper and James pimmit, who has frequently appeared ia police courts as defendant in criminal

The plot included not only the robbery of the bank, but the killing of its teller, Alex. B. Elliott. The whole busizess was nipped in the bud early this morning by the arrest of Cooper and beauty by the plot had been long in hatching mian attempt to carry it out was made on Friday, July 17. It was decided to raid the bank at 8:20 a. m., when the une lock swung open the ponderous doors of the vaults and exposed about $60,000. A negro and three white men were in the scheme, and they went to the bank fully prepared to do murder-sei robbery.

But since June 9 the scheme has been

But since June 9 the scheme has been mown by R. L. Chase, cashier of the bank, and to Deputy Marshal Johnson and Detective Ed. Johnson, and for many nights two or all of these menhave slept in the bank. On that Friday morning all were present.

The plan of the thieves was this: Cooper was to engage the teller in conversation. The negro akly was to sneak into a side entrance and sandbag him. In case the teller turned his head Cooper was to hold him up with a revolver and the negro was to slip a big knife into his fide. Then they were to throw the rolls death bills into a covered basket and ills into a covered basket and

They met in front of the bank that morning. Cooper entered and began to negotiate a loan. Just then a bankto negotiate a loan. Just then a band-er in another building, who knew what was in the wind, stepped to his window to look down the street, and this caused a watcher outside to give an alarm and Cooper went out.

The next move was on the 20th, when Cooper found too many people going along the walk and concluded not to

The next time, though the others went through their part of the play, the negro either grew soft-hearted or smelled a mouse, for he neglected to do his part.

Then a plan was arranged by which Cooper engaged a reporter under the assumption that he was a Missouri 'tough." The reporter fell into the scheme, and held several conversations with Cooper, and met him last night at his home, where it was agreed that they all should meet at the fair grounds Sunday, at 4 o'clock, and complete arrangements for making the raid on Monday woming. The reporter was to go into ments for making the raid on Monday morning. The reporter was to go into the bank and engage the teller in the conversation, and the negro, James Emmitt, was to stab him. Cooper was to make off with the money. Cooper and Dimmitt were then arrested. Cooper showed resistance, but a revolverin the hands of the chief soon quieted him. This morning the two cuiprits were brought into the police outr. The charge preferred was conspiracy to were brought into the police court. The charge preferred was conspiracy to break and enter and rob the American Savings Bank. The preliminary hearing was set for Tuesday, Aug. 11.

Dimmett was asked what part he took in the affair and replied that he had done nothing yet; that he had gone to the bank once, but only to see what was to be done and next time he was told that he must get in his work. When asked if he carried a weapon he replied no, that he had never in his life carried a gun or a raxor—a statement that the police records will not bear out.

Cooper appeared wild and acted as if lie wanted to convince the court that he is insane. He declared he did not know what he was arrested for, and did not know Dinmitt nor know where the bank was. Dr. Chase, who has kept watch at the bank for several weeks, says that there is no doubt that Cooper instigated the plot and is far from crary. Mrs. Cooper declares her husand has been insane for months and is sponsible for his actions or state-She says he told her last night ments. She says he told her last night that he did not not know what would become of him.

"I may lose my life in this thing," said he. "The men have gone away and loon't know what they may do." She says two men came there last night and taked to Mr. Cooper, and one said: "If you breathe a word of this, Cooper, we will kill you."

Swayne, a colored woman, awoke, she found her 3-weeks-old illegitimate child was dead in bed with her. She keeps house for James Green, a colored man, who lives on North street.

Some of the neighbors suspected ill treatment and notified Mayor Keller, who had Dr. W. E. Hervey make an examination of the body. He stated that he found no evidence of ill treatment, but was unable to state what caused the death of the child.

Coroner A. M. Boyd was notified and came up to Martin's Ferry from Bellaire last night.

The coroner held an inquest, at which Mrs. Martha Williams, a colored woman, testified that she saw blood on the mouth of the child and no marks of violence on the body. The legs and arms were drawn up as if in pain. Millle White, colored, verified this statement. Henrietta Swayne, the mother, and Mrs. Wilson, a white woman, living in the vicinity, made about the same stakement. Dr. Hervey found no marks of violence and was unable to.
